DR. WILSON ELECTED BISHOP. Methodist Episcopal Conference Honors

Former Washington Pastor.

Rev. Dr. Luther Barton Wilson, who yesterday was elected bishop by the national conference of the M. E. Church, in session at Los Angeles, Cal., although a native of Baltimore, is perhaps better known in the District of Columbia, where he has served his church a good many years. He is fortyseven years old, and the son of Dr. Henry M. Wilson of Madison avenue, Baltimore. He received his early education in private schools in and about the Monumental City, and later graduated from Dickinson College. He studied medicine at the University of Maryland, but after a year's practice in Baltimore he forsook medicine for the ministry. He entered upon his religious work with the recommendation of the Mt. Ver-non Place Church, and his first appointment was under Rev. Watson Case, on the Hancock circuit, in Maryland. Following this novitiate, as it were, Dr. Wilson returned to Baltimore and became the pastor of Calverton Church, in that city.

From there he was transferred to Clipper Church, Woodbury; then to the Jackson

Square and Strawbridge Churches. In 1892, when he was only thirty-five years old, Dr. Wilson came to Washington, to become pastor of Wesley Chapel, on the corner of 5th and F streets northwest. He served in that capacity for two years, when he was made presiding elder of the Washington district, which position he filled a full term of six years.

In April, 1900, he was made pastor of the Foundry Church, a pulpit which he filled for three years, to the great satisfaction of an ever-increasing congregation. April, 1903, he was made presiding elder of the West Baltimore district, which district he represented in the conference which elected him bishop.

Dr. Wilson married a Miss Turner, niece of the late Gen. John S. Berry. They have three children, and reside at Dukeland, Md.. near Walbrook, the former home of Gen. Berry. Dr. Wilson is a trustee of Dickinson College and a member of many of its societies. For the past two years he has been the national president of the Anti-Saloon League, succeeding to that position upon the death of Rev. Hiram Price.

to reinforce a demand on the sultan for the immediate rescue of Mr. I. H. Perdicaris, an American citizen, who with his stepson, Mr. Varley, was kidnaped from his home there by Moroccan brigands and held for ransom and political concessions. The United States Supreme Court decided that the English anarchist, Turner, must be deported under the laws regulating immigration. George B. Cortelyou, Secretary of Commerce and Labor, was virtually decided upon by the President as his choice for chairman of the national republican committee. The President dismissed the charges against Edward A. Moseley, secretary of against Edward A. Moseley, secretary of the interstate commerce commission. The republican state conventions in Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, California, Nebraska, Wyoming and North Dakota indorsed President Roosevelt for renomination. Factional fights developed in the Illinois and Wisconsin conventions; in the former fifty-eight bailots were taken for the nomination for governor without result and nomination for governor without result and the convention took a recess for eleven days. In Wisconsin those opposed to the nomination of Gov. La Follette for a third term bolted and named an independent ticket. The democratic convention in Califor-nia instructed for W. R. Hearst for President. Uninstructed delegations, believed to be opposed to Hearst, were named by the Montana and South Carolina democratic conventions. The democratic candidate for conventions. The democratic candidate for mayor of Denver was elected by 3,000 majority. Several subsidiary conventions were held at St. Louis in conjunction with the exposition, including the world's press parliament, at which Secretary John Hay delivered an address, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and the Good Roads Association. The battle ship Rhode Island was launched at Quincy, Mass. The Western Union Telegraph Company decided to discontinue the business of collecting and distributing race news to pool rooms and ceased serving these establishments. Raids were made in New York upon a large number of pool rooms, resulting in the com-plete demoralization of the gambling indus-try. Negroes lynched Dick Whitehead, of their own race, at Seaboard, N.
